GENERAL OVERVIEW

Executive Summary

Brown County received an initial allocation of State and Local Fiscal Recovery Funds (SLFRF) in May 2021. In the 2022 budget, the County Board approved about $23.8 million of the funds and has since allocated an additional $4.7 million. The board has approved the remaining $22.9 million before the end of 2022.

Approved projects are underway, with about $1.9 million expended as of June 30, 2022. Projects include expenses for operating the County's hardest hit areas, such as the Zoo, Adventure Park, and Expo Center; capital projects including HVAC replacements and an expansion of the County's fiber network; and making investments in technology and equipment that was deferred during the pandemic.

Uses of Funds

The County has calculated that it lost revenues of over $25 million in 2020 and over $34 million in 2021, over $59 million in 2022. Based on these revenue losses, all the SLFRF funding will be categorized as Revenue Replacement (EC 6).

In addition to these funds, Brown County has received $18.8 million for Emergency Rental Assistance through June 30, 2024.

Promoting equitable outcomes

In the formulation of the plan, Brown County was mindful of how funds could be used to promote strong, equitable growth that help close level of service gaps. Although all of the County's SLFRF expenditures will be classified as Revenue Replacement, the approved projects include significant funding to address the economic impacts of the pandemic.

Specifically, the initial round of County Board approved projects included $1,000,000 for grants to local non-profits to help those most affected by the pandemic and another $1,000,000 that will waive the cost of health licensing for restaurants and hotels, most of which are small businesses.

Although the grants have been awarded and the waivers have been announced, as of June 30, 2025 the County does not yet have information about the impact of these investments.

Community Engagement

The County has been open and transparent during the selection of County projects. The first round of SLFRF projects were included in the proposed budget, which is shared publicly and debated by each Committee at a public meeting before consideration at the County Board meeting for budget.

The second round of projects was selected by Committees from a list of potential projects developed by County Departments at public meetings. The County Board also sought input from the public and suggested other projects for consideration. From the list selected, more details were shared at subsequent public committee meetings and in August or September 2022 the County Board will have another public meeting to approve these projects.

Labor Practices

Brown County is mindful of labor practices, both for the County employees and for infrastructure and capital projects. Brown County has enacted an ordinance setting criteria to ensure that contractors bidding on any public works projects for the County are capable of delivering a high-quality project and utilizing best practices in regards to pay, training and construction. By State Statute, Brown County is prohibited from giving geographical preference to local bidders.

Use of Evidence

Although Brown County will be actively monitoring the funded projects and through ongoing operations, and will be aware of the impact these projects have on the community, it has no plans to expend any funds for formal program evaluations. Project specific evidence information is included in the project inventory below.

Performance Report

Brown County has 100% of the allocated funding for SLFRF as of December 31, 2024. Of the projects underway to date, the County has determined that the scope is limited and has elected not to include any performance indicators.
