

Capital Projects Fund Award Fact Sheet

Delaware

Treasury approves Delaware's plan to invest $40.3 million of CPF funding in nine libraries to provide communities with public access to the internet and expanded resources.

Delaware Capital Projects Fund Program Overview

- Program Summary: $40.3 million for Multi-Purpose Community Facilities (36% of CPF allocation)
- Program Description: The Delaware Libraries program is a competitive grant program that will provide funding for nine eligible library projects across the state. Libraries play a critical role in providing a public space in every community to enable work, education, and health monitoring, especially during the pandemic.

Delaware's plan states that each of the library projects will provide access to high-speed internet for community members who may lack access in their homes.

Capital Projects Fund dollars will be used to construct new or expand existing libraries in Delaware to meet the needs of identified communities. Public libraries funded through this program will provide increased access to resources and programming for community members including students, job-seekers, children, and parents, among others.
