WORKING FAMILIES TAX CUTS

USHERING IN A NEW GOLDEN AGE

Empowering School Choice, Parental Rights, and Affordable Education

President Trump's Working Families Tax Cuts includes significant education reforms that supports school choice and parental rights, expands affordable education and career options, and holds higher education accountable.

Supports School Choice and Parental Rights

- 🏆 Creates the first-ever federal tax credit for contributions to provide scholarships to children to attend a K-12 school of their choice or to access other education-related necessities
- 🏆 Expands 529 Education Savings Accounts to better serve the nearly 55 million K-12 students and over 2.5 million students receiving technical or vocational education by:
 - Doubling the allowed annual distribution amount for K-12 expenses to $20,000
 - Expanding qualified K-12 expenses to include materials, books, testing fees, online programs, tutoring, and educational therapies
 - Expanding qualified distributions for post-secondary career paths to include trade schools, technical certifications, and other workforce development credentialing

More Affordable Education and Career Options

- 🏆 Expands Pell Grants for students to pay for short-term vocational and technical training programs that align with in-demand, high-skill, high-wage jobs
- 🏆 Simplifies student loans and adds guardrails so students can't take on excessive debt they can never repay
- 🏆 Permanently extends tax relief for workers receiving student loan repayment assistance from their employer

Holds Higher Education Accountable

- 🏆 Increases the University Endowment Tax, ensuring that wealthy, private higher education institutions focus on educating students, not financial returns
- 🏆 Requires higher education institutions to certify that degree programs lead to earnings above what students would have made otherwise or risk losing loan eligibility
